Mss. No. 82

The Atlanta Jewish Federation was formally incorporated in 1967 and is the result of the merger of the Atlanta Federation for Jewish Social Service founded in 1905 as the Federation of Jewish Charities; the Atlanta Jewish Welfare Federation founded in 1936 as the Atlanta Jewish Welfare Fund; and the Atlanta Jewish Community Council founded in 1945. Prior to the merger, each agency acted independently with separate officers but overlapping boards of directors. Edward M. Kahn was the executive director of all three.

In 1912 the Federation for Jewish Social Service was reorganized to oversee the functions of several Jewish communal agencies that had heretofore operated separately. In that year the Montefiore Relief Association founded in 1896, the Free Loan Association, later known as the Morris Lichtenstein Free Loan Association, the Jewish Educational Alliance organized in 1909 and the Morris Hirsch Clinic founded in 1911 came under the Federation umbrella.

Over the years the Federation operated the majority of the social service functions within the Jewish community of Atlanta. Varied activities of the staff and case-workers at the Federation included family counseling, welfare and relief for indigents and transients, and supervising Moas Chitim (distribution of Passover packages to the needy). The Federation also participated in efforts to immigrate Jews to the United States prior to and after World War II, and in the tedious process of procuring restitution for survivors of the Holocaust.

In 1936 at the behest of Harold Hirsch, the chief counsel for the Coca-Cola Company, the Atlanta Jewish Welfare Fund was established. The newly founded organization quickly took over the fund raising responsibilities of the Federation instituting the first campaign to raise and allocate funds for local, national, and international causes.

The Jewish Community Council was founded in 1945 to cope with problems of anti-Semitism as well as internal Jewish issues involving social planning, such as the need for new services. The establishment of the Bureau of Jewish Education in 1945 and the Jewish Home in 1951 resulted from studies initiated by the Council.

The Atlanta Jewish Federation Records, 1906 - 1980, are divided into four series:

SERIES I is subdivided into three sub-series. Sub-series I consists of the records of the Atlanta Federation for Jewish Social Service including minutes, annual reports, correspondence, and files from the numerous organizations and agencies with whom the Federation had a relationship. Included in this series are the records of the Jewish Educational Alliance, the Morris Hirsch Clinic, the Montefiore Relief Association and the Morris Lichtenstein Free Loan Association. Sub-series II consists of the case files of individuals and families requiring counseling and relief assistance. Sub-series III consists of the case files of Holocaust survivors requesting restitution. The bulk of the records date from 1906 - 1967 and include Federation files up until the time of the merger. Folders that contain material past 1967 are found in the files of families and individuals whose case was initiated prior to 1967 and continued thereafter.

SERIES II consists of the records of the Atlanta Jewish Welfare Fund and includes campaign files, minutes and funding requests from organizations and yeshivoth in the United States, Europe and Palestine. If the location of the requestor was not clear from the name, then the location was added in parentheses following the entry.

SERIES III consists of the records of Atlanta Jewish Community Council and consists of minutes, newsletters and files on subjects concerning the Council such as anti-Semitism, The Temple bombing, segregation and religion in the public school.

SERIES IV consists of scrapbooks from the Atlanta Jewish Welfare Fund, 1936 - 1943, and the Atlanta Jewish Community Council, 1956 - 1957.

The records in each series are arranged in alphabetical order by subject and chronologically within each folder. The case files records in series I as well as several other files throughout the collection are closed to researchers. The closed files are clearly marked and are only available to researchers with written permission given by both the Atlanta Jewish Federation and The William Breman Jewish Heritage Museum.

This collection of records traces the growth and development of Atlanta's Jewish community. The minutes, reports, correspondence and administrative files and scrapbooks is an extensive resource for the social historian researching subjects as varied as Jewish social service, Jewish - Christian relations, Jewish-Black relations, Holocaust restitution, Jewish camping, settlement houses, and religion in the public schools.

Restrictions: The majority of the collection is available to serious scholars. Portions of the collection are available only with the written permission of the Director of The William Breman Jewish Heritage Museum.
