FOUR GLEE CLUBS ENTER MUSIC CONTEST TONIGHT

Entire School Backs Music Department in Efforts to Win Honors.

165 Bass Students Participate

The city-wide music contest sponsored by the music department of the Atlanta Public Schools, under the direction of Mr. L. G. Nelson, will be held tonight, December 14, at the O'Keefe Junior High School.

All the junior highs of the city will be represented in the contest. Each school has the privilege of making four entries: a mixed chorus, a girls' club, a senior boys' club, and a junior boys' club.

For the past two months the Bass glee clubs have been preparing to enter the contest. In training the school will be represented by a mixed choir, a group of forty-five students; a girls' club, with a membership of thirty; a boys' club, with a membership of twenty-five students; and a glee club including sixty selected voices.

Rules for conducting the contest have been announced by the music department, and the contestants will be made to conform to the rules. Each school will be required to present a program of music in the form of a glee club, a mixed choir, and a girls' club.

The city-wide music contest is a part of the Parent-Teacher Association program of the Junior National Rifle Association, which will be held tonight, December 14, at the O'Keefe Junior High School.

Rules for conduct in giving the contest will be made. The judges will not be informed of the names of the contestants. The program will be given under the direction of Miss Adele Ware.

Alumni News

Among the outstanding students of Girls High are many former Bass pupils. Gladys Morrison, president of the student body, graduated from Bass two years ago. She is not only the leading officer but is, by popular vote, most-likely student. The student government, Kitty Frazier, is certainly reflecting glory on Bass. She is considered very sprightly but intellectual.

In this same "Who's Who" contest Elizabeth Gilliatt was voted most attractive while most representative was said to be Katherine Bowne. Both of these girls are well known to Betty, daughter of the city's wealthiest man.

Elizabeth McGovern is one of the most active members of Student Council, of which Kitty is a head. Margaret Lynn, junior, plays a most active part in the school, and is considered very sprightly but intellectual.

The principal, and a number of instructors, considered the work of the girls very good. The entire school offers her their congratulations.

Mrs. F. Graham is to continue Math work.

The faculty and student body of Girls High are many former Bass students of the city. Betty Montgomery, daughter of the city's wealthiest man, was struck by her tired, sad expression, and being kind and thoughtful, decided that Julia was to spend tomorrow as my daughter. So it was decided that Julia was to spend tomorrow as my daughter. Betty Montgomery, daughter of the city's wealthiest man, was struck by her tired, sad expression, and being kind and thoughtful, decided that Julia was to spend tomorrow as my daughter.

P.-T. A. Board Takes Stand on Schools

Statement Sent to Mayor's Special School Commission

The conception of education as continuous mental and spiritual growth is one of the most significant contributions our age has made to progress. The discarding of the formalities that have served to set education apart from life and the substitution of the idea of development of creative personalities has freed the powerful resources of childhood that we believe will mean a future citizenry that will be able to face the perplexing problems of an increasingly complex civilization.

We believe that, in the light of this concept, education is the moral obligation of adulthood to childhood. How shall our generation stand in the judgment of future generations in our attitude to this fundamental principle? What will be their appraisal of our ability to evaluate properly the real values of life? How shall we stand in their judgment when we spend three times as much for luxuries as we spend for providing opportunities for the mental and spiritual development of the children of our generation? We believe that the contribution a people make to civilization is not judged so much by the development of the time as it is by the degree of purification of spiritual values they bequeath to those who follow them.

Our public schools, we believe, are our chief agencies to this end. It is our opinion that the public school system of Atlanta, as it is now organized, is functioning admirably when viewed in the light of the principles set forth above. We believe our children are being offered educational opportunities that compare quite favorably with those provided by other large cities with which we are accustomed to compare ourselves on commercial, industrial, and cultural bases. We do not believe that our people would be satisfied with a program that would provide less.

We insist that you consider the cost not only of the program as now set up, but also the loss to our children that would result by the adoption of proposals that have been made for curtailment. The Executive Board of the Parent-Teacher Association of the William A. Bass Junior High School goes on record as being opposed to any curtailment of our present school program.

Respectfully yours,

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Citizenship As a Bass Citizen Sees It

The principles which our school teaches for the community at large, found their fullest expression in the conduct of the student body within the school itself.

"As a real citizen we have made our aim to make our school a model of civic spirit and accomplishments."

"We have been trained to develop a habit of thought upon civic questions which will prompt us to analyze conditions before we proceed to criticize them; we have been given a point of view which will enable us to adjust and readjust ourselves in a social order which is making increasingly larger demands upon the powers of cooperation of the individual."

"Too long has the world thought of citizenship as something to attain at the age of twenty-one when certain privileges would be granted. Too little have we realized that citizenship begins with life and that he who makes the greatest success of living is he who contributes his time, his talents, and himself toward the betterment and happiness of the life about him."

"We have contributed trustworthy, self-controlled, loyalty, obedience, sportsmanship, self-reliance, courtesy, health, teamwork, and dependability—all to the purpose of building true citizenship."

SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The conception of education as continuous mental and spiritual growth is one of the most significant contributions our age has made to progress. The discarding of the formalities that have served to set education apart from life and the substitution of the idea of development of creative personalities has freed the powerful resources of childhood that we believe will mean a future citizenry that will be able to face the perplexing problems of an increasingly complex civilization.

group three months, Mr. Gordon became Ensign Gordon. He was sent to Charleston, S.C., after being assigned to active duty, and in Oct. 1941 he was sent to the Cavello Naval Yards in the Philippine Islands. Ensign Gordon experienced the first bombing of Cavello, soon escaping to Fort Mills, Corregidor. When Corregidor fell, Ensign Gordon was taken prisoner by the Japanese, being now in a prison camp somewhere in the Philippines.

Ensign Gordon's brother Lt. Sr. Grade Samuel Lewis Gordon is stationed in Virginia. His gallant mother, Mrs. S. G. Gordon lives at 922 St. Charles Ave. N. E. We gratefully acknowledge thanks to Mrs. Gordon for her useful information.

We the editorial staff of the Bass Aerial, heartily congratulate Ensign Gordon. He has shown excellent stamina and bravery, and has been captured fighting for the principles which he believes are right: the principles of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. This brave American has shown the way.

One Hundred Per Cent Classes

A-6-E: Miss Toren's home room, was the first class in school to be 100 per cent in tin cans, having brought 2,525.

B-6-E: Miss Phillips home room, was the first to be 100 per cent in both the Red Cross Second Drive and Dental Certificates.

A-5-E: Miss Taylor's Little School, was the first Little School to be 100 per cent in Dental Certificates. If any 100 per cent class has been omitted it is due to the fact that the captain has not made a report to such effect.

A-6-E Contest

A-6-E is having a contest between the girls and boys on the salvage of tin cans. The side that wins will be given a party by the opposite side.

B-6 Assembly

The B-6 Little School had an assembly in Room 121 recently. A soldier from Lawson General Hospital was the speaker. He had been wounded four times and fought in South Africa, Italy, and the Philippines. His talk was very interesting and to the point and it centered on the drive for paper, fats, and tin cans. The assembly held every person's attention and made a lasting impression upon every listener, for it brought home to us more vividly the necessity of "Work, Fight, and Live for Democracy".

Thanks to Big Star

The students of A-6-E extend a vote of thanks to Big Star Food Stores at Little Five Points which not only so ably in meeting their quota of tin cans within two or three days after being notified of the time of the collection, but also in furnishing the teams with labels. Thanks are also due to Mrs. Davis, who brought her certificate, to the dental health worker at Little Five Points, to Mr. Moody, who assisted at the collection, and to all who wholeheartedly cooperated in the campaign.

Did You Know?

1. W. B. B. was the first in America to adopt a slogan. The slogan is "The Voice of the South."

2. Atlanta has 66 parks, of which the largest are: Grant Park; Piedmont Park, with 146 acres; Piedmont Park, with 165 acres, and Lakewood Park with 65 acres.

3. Atlanta elected its first mayor, Moses W. Powell, in 1848.

4. Stone Mountain is the largest solid block of granite in the world.

Laughter and Live Longer

Everyone who is cautioned to take more exercise warily wishes it were possible to follow such advice when comfortably seated out on a soft divan. That is not an impossible dream. There is an exercise which can be taken under the most diligently easy circumstances. It is laughter, says to your wife while dinner: "Come on, dear, let's get that new comedy over before the ice cream comes," the man must startup, and will be scientifically correct.

It is a demonstrated fact, recognized by physicians, that laughter is an exercise both beneficial to the body and mind. The medical authority says, "Laughter is the most wholesome and rejuvenating of all exercises, improving the appetite and digestion, enhancing the freedom of circulation and respiration, driving a particle to the eye, and the glow of youth to the cheek. The man or woman with a rollicking temperament eats well, sleeps well, works well, and enjoys life."

Laughter accomplishes the seeming miracle of both relaxing the tissues while it vigorously exercises certain muscles and organs. Scientists claim that laughter is also very beneficial to the heart. Laughter is an exercise that can be enjoyed by the young and old, regardless of state of health.

In a war-torn world where there is so much to be sad about, laughter is doubly essential in keeping up morale and courage. Mirth is to the human body what sunshine is to vegetation.

SportsfolO

By Ramon Bizinsky

Howdy sport fans! Here are the champions of the softball tournament. In the 7th grade, A-5-W won. In the 8th, A-4-W was champion. In the 9th, B-6-O won. It was a great season while it lasted and I hope Mr. Moody will have another next year. The annual All-Star games will be held about May 22-30. Let's hope for a great season of softball.

The Homebore tournament is not coming up as we planned, so let everybody get behind it and make it a great success. So long.
