HEADQUARTERS SIXTH NAVAL DISTRICT
UNITED STATES NAVAL BASE
NAVAL BASE, S. C.

From: The Commandant, SIXTH Naval District.
To: All Naval Reserve Personnel Ordered to Training Duty.
Subj: Instructions.
Encl: (A) Your orders to training duty.

1. Your orders to training duty (enclosure (A)) are forwarded herewith. READ THEM CAREFULLY AS WELL AS THESE INSTRUCTIONS TO BE SURE YOU UNDERSTAND EXACTLY WHAT IS EXPECTED OF YOU IN CONNECTION WITH THIS TRAINING DUTY. Any minor questions will be answered at the time of reporting. It is requested that if anything of major importance is not clear to you that you get in touch immediately by telegram or telephone with the Office of the Director of Distribution, Headquarters, SIXTH Naval District, on Naval Base Extension 1159.

2. From the time your orders are received to the time you have returned home, be careful to check your orders to see that all necessary endorsements are placed thereon, and that they are properly signed by the individual having authority to sign them. As soon as your orders are received, promptly endorse the time and place of receipt.

3. Bring your discharge certificate, continuous service certificate, Form 553 or any other form of discharge paper or official documents which may have been issued you if you have had previous service in the Regular Navy or Naval Reserve. Photostats are acceptable.

4. Transportation Requests have been forwarded to enlisted men. It is recommended that these be used in all cases where practicable.

UNIFORM INSTRUCTIONS

GENERAL

5. You should report for duty in the uniform of the day wherever possible. For officers and Chief Petty Officers, this will be Service Dress White, or the Grey or Khaki Working Uniform. For other enlisted personnel, Undress White.

OFFICERS

6. In addition to the uniform of the day, officers should have with them sufficient grey or khaki working uniforms. White uniforms will not be required aboard ship, but will be desirable for shore leave. If in your possession, white should be brought. Due to the necessity of processing a large number of officers and enlisted men in a short space of time prior to embarkation, it may not be possible for you to do any shopping for miscellaneous articles at the Receiving Station Ship's Service, whose stocks will likewise be very limited in some of the more critical items. Therefore, it behooves all officers to provide themselves with everything they need prior to reporting wherever possible. DO NOT BRING FOOT LOCKERS OR OTHER BAGGAGE THAT CANNOT EASILY BE HANDLED BY HAND AND STORED IN A MINIMUM AMOUNT OF SPACE. It is very probable that locker space will be limited aboard ship.
Subj: Instructions.

CHIEF PETTY OFFICERS

7. Chief Petty Officers will be guided by the instructions given above for Commissioned Officers. It is desired to point out that it is very probable that proper CPO quarters will not be available to all due to the number of CPO's taking training duty. In general, Chief Petty Officers are required to provide such clothing as is necessary for the proper performance of training duty in their respective rates and to present a neat appearance while on this duty. Chief Petty Officers are not entitled to an issue of clothing at government expense for training duty. If you report in civilian clothes, an overnight bag or other receptacle must be provided to store these items ashore during training.

ENLISTED PERSONNEL (V-6)

8. Enlisted personnel of Class V-6 inactive (men who have not been officially ordered to Organized Units) will be entitled to draw clothing up to the amount, and items specified in the requisition attached to your orders. ALL CLOTHING SO ISSUED WILL BE GOVERNMENT PROPERTY AND MUST BE RETURNED BEFORE LEAVING FOR YOUR HOME UPON COMPLETION OF TRAINING DUTY. It is to the advantage of personnel of this class to report in uniform with a minimum of baggage wherever possible and such men will be permitted to draw additional items of clothing as necessary to complete the issue as specified in the requisition with your orders.

In any case, you must have in your possession when you report for training duty, the following minimum amount of clothing:

- 1 pair shoes (black)
- 4 pairs socks (black)
- 4 Undershirts, cotton (similar to regulation Navy garment)
- 4 drawers
- 2 towels (bath)
- Necessary toilet articles.

If it is necessary for you to report in civilian clothes, it will be necessary for you to provide a suitable overnight bag, suitcase, or other receptacle for stowing them ashore while you are on training duty. The Receiving Station will accept these clothes in a proper receptacle and issue a claim check against them. Upon completion of training duty, and when issued clothing is returned, the civilian clothes will be returned to you.

ENLISTED PERSONNEL (C-1)

9. Enlisted personnel of Class C-1 (those men assigned to Organized Units of the Naval Reserve) are entitled to a permanent issue of clothing in accordance with Naval Reserve Multiple Address Letter 20-46.

The following items of uniform will be required for training duty:

1 Dress Blue jumper
1 Undress Blue jumper
2 Undress White jumpers
2 Blue trousers
2 White trousers
2 Dungaree trousers
2 Dungaree shirts
1 Necktie
1 White hat

Any of the preceding items not now in your possession may be drawn at the Receiving Station, Charleston, upon presentation of a properly made out clothing requisition. The requisition must be made out by the Commanding Officer of your Organized Division and signed by him. This clothing will be issued at the same time that clothing is drawn by the Inactive Reservists. All clothing so issued will be Government Property and must be returned before leaving for your home upon completion of training duty. The following additional items of clothing must be in your possession at time of reporting:

1 pair shoes (black)
4 pairs socks (black)
4 undershirts, cotton (similar to regulation Navy garment)
4 drawers
2 towels, bath
Necessary toilet articles
1 lock.

If it is necessary for you to report in civilian clothes, it will be necessary for you to provide a suitable overnight bag, suitcase, or other receptacle for stowing them ashore while you are on training duty. The Receiving Station will accept these clothes in a proper receptacle and issue a claim check against them. Upon completion of training duty, and when issued clothing is returned, the civilian clothes will be returned to you.

NOTE

10. Stowage aboard ship will be limited. Bring a lock for your locker.
Subj: Instructions

GENERAL INFORMATION

11. All personnel will be paid at the completion of the training duty and at no other time. Therefore, it will be necessary to provide yourself with sufficient funds for liberty.

12. The time of reporting specified in all orders is 0800. However, it is realized that transportation schedules may not permit this in all cases. Therefore, where such is the case, reporting as soon after 0800 as possible will be permitted. Transportation will be provided to the Receiving Station from rail terminals and bus terminals up to the limit of equipment available. Members of the Shore Patrol or special Masters at Arms will be stationed at those locations to guide you to the proper vehicles. If you arrive at the Main Gate of the Naval Base by other means, transportation will be further provided from this point to the Receiving Station Dispensary where you will be given your physical examination.

13. Insufficient space is available within the Naval Base to park cars of trainees desiring to leave private vehicles in Charleston while on training duty outside this area. Cars must be parked in the general parking area just outside the Main Gate and will be left there at the owner's risk.

DEAR FELLOW VETERAN:

I congratulate you upon completion of your service in the armed forces and for your part in bringing to a conclusion a two-front war which resulted in the unconditional surrender of the Axis Powers.

Having been appointed by the President as Administrator of Veterans Affairs, I want to state generally the provisions made by our Government for you and other veterans.

Among the benefits that you may be entitled to are compensation for disabilities, hospitalization, home, farm and business loan guarantee, readjustment allowances, insurance, rehabilitation and vocational training, educational courses, assistance in obtaining employment and provision for your dependents.

Eligibility for each one is dependent upon the facts in the individual case.

If you are interested in any of these provisions, you should write or contact the Veterans Administration office nearest your home. For your convenience, there is, on the reverse of this letter, a list of the Regional Offices with the address of each office.

I feel I should warn you the last deduction for your Government insurance premiums has been made from your service pay. This means from now on you must make these premium payments directly to the Collections division, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

DON'T LET YOUR INSURANCE LAPSE! YOU OWE THIS TO YOURSELF AND YOUR FAMILY.

I assure you that the Veterans Administration stands ready to serve you.

Sincerely yours,

OMAR N. BRADLEY,
General, U. S. Army, Administrator.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING OUT OFFICER QUALIFICATIONS QUESTIONNAIRE

The information sought in this questionnaire is needed as an aid in selecting officers for detailing and assignment to specific billets. Much of the information requested is now on record in various bureau and departmental files; but the changes in officer detailing methods necessitated by war conditions requires both that the information now on hand be collected into one central basic document and that information not previously available be gathered. Before the war the Navy had approximately 10,000 officers, many of whom were personally known to each other, and who were detailed on a basis which was integrated with the principle of providing broad generalized training to all. Today there are more than 200,000 officers, most of whom are in the reserve and trained for only limited types of duties; accordingly, different methods must govern their assignment if the fullest utilization is to be made of the qualifications and abilities of these officers. This questionnaire record is one of the basic tools of the detail officers. Copies of the record are made available to and utilized by the personnel officers of district, areas, and subsidiary commands. It is impossible to overstate the importance in the Navy's handling of personnel of giving accurately and completely the data requested.

1. The questionnaire should be filled out by commissioned officers of and below the rank of Commander (including W-V(S) officers), by warrant officers, and by reserve midshipmen.

2. The "file number" requested is not to be confused with the regular officer's signal number. The file number may be found in the upper left hand corner of orders and personal correspondence emanating from the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

3. In describing civilian education, give the best possible approximation of total college semester hours and of semester hours in major subjects. It is obvious that these things cannot always be remembered with absolute accuracy; but it is important to be able to distinguish, for instance, between the officer who has had 50 semester hours in physics and the officer with only 15 semester hours in that subject.

4. Civilian experience should be described with careful definitiveness as to duties and as to the level of responsibility of the job in the organization of which it was a part. Do not, for instance, describe yourself simply as an "Electrical Engineer," but give a full description, such as "Electrical Engineer designing metering devices and acting as assistant head of the design section." As another example, do not say merely "Vice President of a department store" if your duties can be described more exactly as "Vice President in charge of sales, for a department store with an average gross of $850,000 annually."

5. Be specific in stating the kind of business, manufacturer or other organization by which you were employed. Do not say "manufacturing," but describe the kind of manufacturer, such as "canning machinery manufacturer," "paper box manufacturer," etc. If you were employed by a government organization, describe the kind of organization, such as "Public Personnel Agency," "Electrical Utility Regulating Agency," etc.

6. In listing naval schools and courses completed, be sure that you do not enter courses pursued as a civilian, even though they may appear to be counterparts of similar naval courses. Only courses successfully completed are to be listed.

7. Be specific in describing naval duties. If you are performing engineering duties, indicate the division and type of engineering plant, and your battle station. (For example, "J. O., M Div., Diesel-Electric Drive," Battle Station: "Amidship Repair Party"). If you are in charge of a battery, show the type of gun (for instance, "Division officer 5"/38 battery," Battle Station: "Control Officer, MK 37 Director").

8. The Commanding Officer (Reporting Senior) should answer the questions on Page 4 in such a way as to provide true aid and guidance in the future assignments of the officers. This information will not form a part of the officer's promotion jacket, but is to be used for detail purposes only.
6. Give (a) titles and nature of any important publications of which you have been author, (b) any patents or inventions, and (c) any special qualifications not covered elsewhere in this questionnaire.

7. IN VIEW OF YOUR PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE, IN WHAT TYPE OF DUTY DO YOU THINK THE NAVY CAN BEST USE YOUR SERVICES?

Mail being returned from 171 E Post Road, White Plains, NY.,
1. Recent correspondence received from you indicates your present address is not in accord with the records of the Commandant.

2. Reference (a) provides in part as follows:

(1) Home of Record is defined as being that address which Reserve Officers may maintain for personal reasons and, in general, is that address to which they would normally expect to be returned after a tour of active duty.

(2) Present address is defined as the place of actual residence or location at which a reservist can be reached quickly at any time by orders or other official communications with a certainty of delivery. "Home of Record" and "present address" may be one and the same. Should this occur and, in the event of a subsequent change in one or both, separate reports are required.

3. It is requested that enclosure 1 be completed, in duplicate, signed and returned to the Commandant.

4. Changes in "Present Address" outside the Third Naval District involve a transfer of your records to the naval district having cognizance of your new address. Prompt reports of changes in your "present address" will insure uninterrupted receipt of the "Naval Reservist", the "District Information Bulletin" and similar literature of interest to Naval Reserve officers.

Subj: Your Status in the U. S. Naval Reserve

Ref: (a) Title III, Public Law 610-88th Congress
(b) Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 (Public Law 176-82nd Congress)
(c) BuPers Instruction 1821.1 - Subj: Naval Reserve officers not on active duty, regulations governing retention in an active status

Encl: (1) Two copies of reply form

1. This letter is addressed to you as one of the many reserve officers who have been commissioned for eight years or more but who have found it impracticable to participate actively in a training program of the Naval Reserve. It is desired to obtain your individual wishes in the light of:

   a. The present overall situation relative to Naval Reserve officer strength and mobilization requirements.

   b. Current laws and regulations which affect your present and prospective status in the Naval Reserve.

2. The mobilization potential of the Naval Reserve is dependent upon the numbers and qualifications of Reservists in the Ready and Standby Reserve categories. Since law provides that numerical restrictions be placed on the total strength of the Ready and Standby Reserve, it is mandatory that the retention and promotion of the reservists in these categories be realistically administered so as to be compatible with the Navy's mobilization requirements. Officers in the Retired Reserve are in addition to these numerical restrictions.

3. Reference (a) requires that all reserve officers not on active duty meet prescribed minimum participation requirements and qualifications or be removed from active status; briefly this consists of training to a degree sufficient to earn at least twelve retirement credits each fiscal year. Since January 1950, many thousands of officers have been thus removed from eligibility for further participation. Relatively few have indicated, by requesting reinstatement, a willingness to undertake such participation. Reference (b) requires the Naval Reserve to be composed of the Ready, the Standby, and the Retired Reserve, and its members to be available for recall in that order. Reference (c) establishes the minimum standards for retention qualification and prescribes the procedures for administering the Inactive Status List. As further clarification:

   a. The Inactive Status List is a part of the Standby Reserve and consists of those officers removed from Active Status, either voluntarily or involuntarily, due to their temporary inability to participate to the required degree.
b. The Retired Reserve consists of those reservists who have qualified by virtue of age and service rendered, and also have specifically requested retirement. Retirement, being a permanent change of status, precludes any further credit for training except when serving on full time active duty. Reservists eligible for retirement under the provisions of reference (b) are those who have reached age 37 and have served in the Naval Reserve for a minimum of eight years including at least six months active duty during a war or national emergency. Officers in the Retired Reserve may volunteer for active duty whenever a need for their services exists, but may not be ordered to active duty involuntarily except during a war or national emergency declared by Congress (unless otherwise authorized by law, such as the current Doctors and Dentists Draft Law).

4. Officers who do not desire to retain their commissions are privileged to submit resignations for consideration. They must state in their requests a precise reason, such as age, civilian responsibilities, non-availability, etc. Currently, the Secretary of the Navy is accepting resignations received from inactive officers who have discharged their obligated active duty and completed a total of eight years commissioned service, active and inactive (except certain Doctors and Dentists).

5. The records of the Bureau of Naval Personnel indicate that you have completed at least eight years of commissioned service and have been on the Inactive-Status List of the Naval Reserve for a period in excess of three years. It is therefore planned to refer your name, in October, to the Reserve Officer Disposition Board for recommendation as to further retention on the Inactive-Status list or discharge. If you desire to participate actively in a training program of the Naval Reserve to the extent necessary to meet established retention qualification requirements, a request from you for removal from the Inactive Status List will be considered on the basis of mobilization vacancies for officers of your age, rank and designator.

6. In view of the foregoing, the Navy asks that you carefully consider your present ability or desire to participate actively in reserve training every year, and your availability for mobilization. You are then urged to request one of the following prior to 1 October 1955, using the enclosed form:

   a. Reinstatement to an Active Status. Include your plans for regular participation through membership in an appropriate drilling unit, performance of annual training duty, and/or completion of correspondence courses. Include also a statement of your availability for future active duty, and the type of future assignment you intend to train for, in order to substantiate your qualifications.

   b. Retention on the Inactive Status List for an additional three years if you feel that your qualifications warrant such consideration. Include an outline of your special qualifications and a statement that you do not foresee requesting a deferment in the event of mobilization. Such requests will be approved only if positive mobilization need and potential are established.

   c. Transfer to the Retired Reserve, if you are eligible and wish to retain your commission as an officer without further credit for peacetime inactive-duty training.

   d. Acceptance of your resignation if you feel that none of the above alternatives is compatible with your interests or present situation.

7. It should be appreciated that the foregoing action is essential if the Ready and Stand-by Reserves are to be composed of those individuals needed to fulfill the Naval Reserve mobilization requirements. The Navy is proud of the exemplary service of its Reservists in the past; it solicits your interest and support in the future.
From: Chief of Naval Personnel

To: Lcdr S L Gordon

Subj: Your Status in the U. S. Naval Reserve

Ref: (a) BuPers Reserve Instruction 1822.1 (ex-NRMAI 10-51)
(b) Title Ill, Public Law 810-80th Congress
(c) Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 (Public Law 476-82nd Congress)

Encl: (1) Reply form

1. The purpose of this letter is to advise those reserve officers who have not found it practicable to participate actively in the Reserve Training Program of their present and prospective status under the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952.

2. Reference (a), in implementation of reference (b), required that all reserve officers not on active duty meet certain minimum standards and qualifications, or be transferred to the Inactive-Status List. Since January 1950, many thousands of officers have been thus removed from eligibility for further participation. Relatively few have indicated, by requesting reinstatement, a willingness to undertake such participation.

3. Reference (c), which became effective on 1 January 1953, requires the Naval Reserve to be composed of the Ready, the Standby, and the Retired Reserve. The Inactive-Status List is a part of the Standby Reserve. The law also provides for numerical restrictions to be placed on the total strength of each reserve component. This feature of the law makes it mandatory that retention of reservists in any category be based on mobilization requirements, and that all members in excess of planned future requirements (for their rank and designator) be separated from the Ready and Standby Reserve. It follows that the Retired Reserve must be restricted to those reservists who qualify by virtue of age and service rendered.

4. The mobilization requirement in the Retired Reserve is currently considered to be sufficient to accommodate interested reserve officers who have reached age 37 and who have served in the Naval Reserve for a minimum of eight (8) years, including at least six (6) months active duty during a war or national emergency. Officers without World War II or recent active duty do not qualify for the Retired Reserve until they have reached age 37 and have completed eight (8) years of "Satisfactory Federal Service" (currently, "50-point" years). Officers in the Retired Reserve are not paid, cannot participate in reserve training, and are exempt from taking quadrennial physical examinations or submitting annual questionnaires. Under reference (c) they may not be ordered to active duty involuntarily except during full mobilization.

5. Officers who do not desire to retain their commissions are privileged to submit resignations, for consideration on the basis of mobilization requirements. They must state in their requests a precise reason, such as age, civilian responsibilities, non-availability, etc. With regard to age in such cases, this Bureau is now recommending acceptance of resignations submitted by inactive officers whose ages exceed that indicated for their rank (Capt..., 52; Cdr..., 47; Lcdr..., 42; Lt..., 37; Lt(jg)..., 32; Ens..., 30; WO..., 40).
6. The records of this Bureau indicate that you have been carried on the Inactive-Status List for a period in excess of one (1) year. If you have not been participating in the Reserve Program for as long as three (3) years, your name will necessarily be referred to the Reserve Officers Disposition Board, for recommendation as to further retention on the Inactive-Status List or discharge. If you desire to resume participation, a request from you for removal from the Inactive-Status List will be considered on the basis of mobilization vacancies for officers of your rank and designator and the extent of participation you plan for the next fiscal year.

7. In view of the foregoing, the Navy asks that you carefully consider your present ability or desire to participate actively in reserve training every year, and your availability for mobilization. You are then urged to do one of the following, using the enclosed form:

   (a) Advise this Bureau, via your Commandant, of your plans for immediate or future regular participation in an appropriate drilling unit, on annual training duty, and by correspondence courses. Include a statement as to your availability, and the type of future assignment you intend to train for, in order to substantiate your qualifications for such mobilization vacancy as may exist.

   (b) Request transfer to the Retired Reserve, if you are eligible and do not wish consideration for a mobilization vacancy as a Ready or Standby Reservist.

   (c) Request acceptance of your resignation, if you are over the age mentioned in paragraph 5 above for your rank, or can state a reason to support non-availability for active duty under any conditions.

8. Failure to reply to this notification will be considered as an indication of lack of interest and sufficient reason for early submission of your name to the Disposition Board for consideration for discharge.

9. It should be appreciated that the foregoing action is essential if the rolls of Ready and Standby Reservists are to be composed of those who meet planned mobilization requirements. The Navy is proud of the exemplary service of its Reservists in the past; it solicits your interest and support in the future.
